

Sometimes, it's good to have one around...

Having Xecunet on your team is like having your own in-house IT personnel to repair and maintain your computers and network. Within minutes of your telephone request, a dedicated XecuTech support manager will be on the phone with you, reviewing your service request, and dispatching a professional, friendly, and qualified service technician to get you up and running quickly.

You know how much you have come to depend on the performance of your computer. Now, computers are essential to your daily business functions and personal lifestyle. A minor computer glitch or complete network failure can alter the best laid plans instantly. And as e-mail and the Internet become a vital part of the way business is done, network security, spyware removal, and virus prevention are more important than ever.

Whether you need a simple one-time upgrade, a maintenance agreement, or you wish to bring in your computer, we can get you diagnosed quickly and have you on the road to recovery. Common services for PC repair and upgrades are:

System Tune-Ups	Virus Removal	Remote Data Backup
Spyware Removal	Software Installation	Network Design/Installation
Software Upgrades	Wireless Networking	Telecom Consulting
Computer Sales/Upgrades	Data Migration	Network Security

XecuTech support services are an ideal choice for businesses that are not large enough to justify a full-time support staff. We assign a dedicated technician to handle your account so they have a full understanding of your company's specific IT needs. With a maintenance agreement, we provide 24/7 emergency on-site support as well as telephone support for your staff. In addition to help desk services, we will work with you to create a preventative maintenance program to keep your network working to its full potential.

Stop worrying about your IT! Call XecuTech Helpdesk Services and find out how we can help!
